NATION CHANGERS

SYNDICATE

Change a life and help change the nation by joining the AIEF Nation Changers Syndicate to provide a scholarship for an Indigenous child at a leading Australian school.

Since we began in 2008, AIEF has grown from one scholarship student to now supporting over 1,500 young Indigenous people from over 400 communities in every state and territory of Australia.

With scholarships and employment support, hundreds of Indigenous students have already completed their schooling and embarked on careers, strengthening their families and communities, and realising their full potential.

These outcomes have been underpinned by funding from the public and private sectors – funding that is already committed to current scholarship students.

We can't stop when there is so much more to do.

We invite you to become a founding member of the AIEF Nation Changers Syndicate so together, we can provide the transformative opportunity of a quality education to more Indigenous children.

Your investment will empower young Indigenous Australians to shape our nation's future.

NATION CHANGERS SYNDICATE MEMBERS

Our Nation Changers Syndicate acknowledges a dedicated group of donors who are committed to supporting students at an AIEF Partner School for the entirety of their secondary education.

By committing to making a tax-deductible donation of $30,000 per annum for six years you can help support a student's boarding and tuition fees, uniforms and other expenses.

NATION CHANGERS ENDOWMENT

The AIEF Endowment has been established to create a sustainable funding source for our Scholarship Program and leave a tangible and lasting legacy for our nation.

All support for our AIEF Scholarship Endowment is greatly appreciated and for each $500,000 we are able to secure, we can create an additional AIEF Scholarship place in perpetuity.

AIEF is making a measurable difference to the lives of hundreds of Indigenous scholarship students.

Perhaps more significantly, these students are having an immeasurable impact on their families, communities and the nation.

ABOUT AIEF SCHOLARSHIPS

- AIEF awards scholarships for up to six years of secondary schooling based on financial need, student enthusiasm and parental support.
- An AIEF Scholarship covers boarding fees, tuition fees, uniforms and other incidental expenses.
- A compulsory parental contribution scaled according to family means, and other available subsidies, is deducted each year.
- AIEF currently supports around 350 Indigenous boys and girls each year at leading educational partners around Australia.
- AIEF continues to support students after they complete Year 12 and alumni consistently achieve a successful transition rate into further study or employment of 90% and above.
- AIEF Programs provide value for money, with each dollar invested into the programs generating benefits of $9.31 over the working lifetime of participants.
- For many AIEF Scholarship Students' families, the financial barriers to attending participating boarding schools are likely to be insurmountable without an AIEF Scholarship.

Delwyn Wunungmurra
Gapuwiyak, Arnhem Land, NT
Year 12, 2016, The Scots College
Aboriginal Community Police Officer

In 2013, Delwyn started boarding school at The Scots College in Sydney, more than 4,000km away from his home in the remote Aboriginal community of Gapuwiyak in north-eastern Arnhem Land.

“The first year was a bit tough, being far away from family and in a big city,” Delwyn admits. “By the second year, I had found my feet. My English improved, I started getting better grades.”

Delwyn graduated in 2016, set on a career path that would allow him to affect change in Indigenous communities. “I was proud to graduate. There are really only a handful of people from my community who have finished Year 12.”

Delwyn returned to his home community, landing a job as an Aboriginal Liaison Officer, negotiating the relationship between the police and his community.

“I wanted to go back to the community to be a good role model to others, and to be close to my family.”

After completing training in Darwin, Delwyn is now an Aboriginal Community Police Officer, posted to Nhulunbuy, another remote Indigenous community around 200kms from his home.

“I am glad that I went to Scots on an AIEF Scholarship to get a good education. I pushed myself and challenged myself to be a role model for my siblings and be a young leader for my community.”

MORE LIKELY TO GO TO UNIVERSITY

Tahlia finished Year 12 in 2015 at St Peters Lutheran College in Brisbane. Tahlia believes attending boarding school helped her build more independence and responsibility. "It definitely allowed me to learn more about myself."

She is now working as a project engineer while studying at university. "I want to use my story as a female in engineering to help inspire others to pursue higher education."

We invite you to join the AIEF Nation Changers Syndicate today. With your generosity, together we will empower young Indigenous students to shape our nation's future.

Education is critical to positive opportunity for Indigenous Australians. Supporting AIEF means I am giving Indigenous students the opportunity to earn an education and join the now hundreds of AIEF graduates embarking on productive careers.

Each year, 90% of AIEF students stay at school and complete Year 12

Each year, 90% of AIEF graduates participating in the program successfully transition to further study or employment

The Bill and Patricia Ritchie Foundation's support of AIEF began when Andrew Penfold presented our family with an audacious and ambitious plan to dramatically impact opportunities for Indigenous students in secondary school education.

The phenomenal success of AIEF is beyond our expectations. Our support and our belief in the program continues to grow.
