

One in two Australians believe we'll never see an Indigenous Prime Minister.

We believe it can happen.

Without access to quality education, the path to leadership — in Parliament, in boardrooms, in every place decisions are made — is blocked before it even begins.

Through scholarships and career support, AIEF is changing that.

Education changes futures. Futures change nations.

One in two Australians believe we'll never see an Indigenous Prime Minister.
We believe it can happen.

Our campaign launches as Newspoll research reveals that just 23% of Australians believe they will see an Indigenous Prime Minister in their lifetime.

Without access to quality schooling or university qualifications, the path to leadership — in Parliament, in boardrooms, in every place decisions are made — is blocked before it even begins.

Through scholarships and career support, AIEF is changing that.

Over 90% of AIEF students stay at school and complete Year 12 — well above the national average.

Not all of them will want to be Prime Minister. But every one of them deserves the chance to lead.
